

Your homework for the week:

I'd like everyone to use this week as a time to do a little "homework"

I believe this will create an amazing level of clarity and put you in a position to launch your Expert Business -

First, for background, a quick reminder of what we've done so far:

- 1) You evaluated the Warrior Forum for opportunity that matches your skills (and by the way, the process I am teaching you here works in ANY place online where folks need your help, not just the WF)
- 2) I've shown you how to develop your presence on the WF
- 3) I've shown you how to get someone to tell you what their needs and gaps are so that you can talk with them about consulting
- 4) I've shown you how to talk with someone and enroll them in your consulting

So for the homework, I'd like you to write out an organized document (perhaps like a bulleted outline) of how YOU can do each of the above steps, including:

- 1) What can YOU offer?
- 2) What can you help with?
- 3) How can YOU best become known on the WF and become introduced to people who need your help?

If you'll make this as detailed as possible, when you are finished, you will have a complete business plan for your WSO business -